officer who was awaiting his capture, on Sunday morning, who took him to Jackson for trial.

The Otsego Lake correspondent of the Otsego County Herald, says: "Merchant D. Wilson has sold his store and residence to Salling, Hanson & Co., of Grayling. Mr. Wilson has bought a farm near Harrisville, on which he is going to live. He sold his farm in the town of Hayes to David Ward."

Yaple and Norton.

Our city and vicinity have been unusually excited for over a week by the display of huge colored posters announcing that Hon. Geo. L. Yaple would be here on the 22d. The local committee was unusually active, and spared neither money or work to make the occasion a success. The rink was rented for the occasion, and the services of the Grayling City Band and the West Branch Cornet Band were secured for the day. The weather was delightful and a crowd of about 500 was present. Mr. Yaple was presented by "Our own Boy," L. Maurice-Kinn, and proceeded to speak a part of his pure free trade speech. As that doctrine is largely in the minority here, its reception was not very inspiring, and the would-be governor gave away willingly, as he expressed it, to a better man, Col. Norton, of Chicago. The Col. lays no claim to that title, as his rank in the army was that of Capt. of Co. E. 2d U. S. S., and he is proud enough of that. Having been associated with him in the army we know him to be a gentleman, and as brave a man as ever wore a sword. He is politically cracked, on the text of "homes for the homeless and lands for the landless," but as an acknowledged leader of the greenback party in the Northwest, he has won an enviable amount of information. He is a high protectionist, and it is as glib and worn-out for him to listen to the free-trade sophistries of Mr. Yaple than it was for him to assist in their plan of burying the real issue—now before the people.

We do not believe the show will have any material effect on the voters here, but as an advertisement for the town, it has certainly succeeded.

The American Agriculturist.

For November, 1886, contains no less than 170 illustrations and engravings of every description, articles on a varety of subjects from fifty well-known writers, scattered through the Northern, Southern, Eastern and Western States, and Canada, and two large supplements, comprising in all over eighty quarto pages—being by far the largest and most extensively illustrated issue of its character ever published.
The leading feature is James Parton's article on General Jackson as a farmer, with accompanying engraving of the latter, drawn expressly to accompany this paper by artists who have visited The Hermitage. It constitutes the second in the series of the engravings entitled the "Homes of our Farmer Presidents," which the American Agriculturist presents to its subscribers.
David W. Judd continues his Western correspondence, presenting in connection therewith a full-page illustration of scenes in Wyoming Territory. President Chamberlain, of Iowa; Professor Bessier, of Nebraska; Professor Bailey, of Michigan; Dr. Peter Collier, of District of Columbia; A. B. Allen, founder of the American Agriculturist; Seth Green, the fish culturist; Joseph Harris, George Thibodeau, Dr. Hexamer, Peter Henderson, M. C. Webb, and a number of other well-known writers discourse upon subjects with which they are familiar. Price $1.50 a year, single numbers, 15 cents. Address Publishers, 731 Broadway, New York.

The Michigan Central is now known among railroad men as the "Prohibition Road." The company is becoming more and more strict regarding the habits of its employees. Intemperance is a ready cause for discharge, as many of the boys along the line know from experience.—Saginaw Courier.

Just what every lady wants. A Magazine that combines the essentials of all others, and DEMONSTRATES MOST certainly fills the bill. The November number of this popular progressive Magazine is at hand, and a fine number it is, containing a beautiful oil picture, "The Music Lesson," besides fifty other illustrations. Its literary departments are instructive as well as amusing, and its fashion department is just what is wanted in these hard times, as each number contains an order entitling the purchaser to select a pattern of any design in that number and of any size, thus saving the purchaser of a single number about thirty cents, and a saving of over $3.00 yearly subscribers. Our lady readers who wish to economize will appreciate this; for while they get the finest literary Magazine in the world at only $2. per year, they also get all the patterns they wish to use (free) from the recognized fountainhead of fashions.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of Boschee's German Syrup within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and effectual cure of Coughs, Colds and the severe Lung Troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by Physicians, as it does not dry up a Cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when these diseases make their appearance, will save doctor's bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price 75 cents, large bottles.

A FREAK OF NATURE.

And the Curious Norwegian Legend Connected Therewith.

The first monster sighted the little fish-boat, and the crew, whose only outlines are those of a giantess turned to stone, and miles beyond we came to the Island of Tyngholm, which is the most wonderful freak of nature along the Norwegian coast. We saw it from afar as a giant's hat floating on the water, a huge crown and a brim of bare granite, the brim rising well above the water, and the crown more than 800 feet high, pierced nearly at the top with a hole that runs through the granite crown like a tunnel. Sailing toward it on the placid blue water, the eye came in line with the tunnel, and we saw straight through it to the sky beyond. The brim rising well above the water, and the crown more than 800 feet high, pierced nearly at the top with a hole that runs through the granite crown like a tunnel. Sailing toward it on the placid blue water, the eye came in line with the tunnel, and we saw straight through it to the sky beyond.

Sailing toward it on the placid blue water, the eye came in line with the tunnel, and we saw straight through it to the sky beyond.

The first monster sighted the little fish-boat, and the crew, whose only outlines are those of a giantess turned to stone, and miles beyond we came to the Island of Tyngholm, which is the most wonderful freak of nature along the Norwegian coast. We saw it from afar as a giant's hat floating on the water, a huge crown and a brim of bare granite, the brim rising well above the water, and the crown more than 800 feet high, pierced nearly at the top with a hole that runs through the granite crown like a tunnel.
